Research & Development Council of New Jersey

The Research & Development Council of New Jersey Awards Engineering/Technician Scholarships to Deserving Students

DENVILLE, N.J., August. 1, 2006 - The Research & Development Council of New Jersey, a nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting the advancement of research and development throughout the state, has once again awarded Engineering/Technician Scholarships to 12 deserving community college students.

Each year, the Council awards $1500 scholarships to students in engineering, science and technology-related fields who are enrolled in any of New Jersey's community colleges. Grade point average, major field of interest, extra-curricular activities, financial need, other awards and career goals after college are all taken into consideration. These scholarships are made possible through the generosity of The R&D Council's member companies.

This year's contributing members are:

- Celgene Corporation, Summit
- Engelhard Corporation, Iselin
- ExxonMobil Research & Engineering Company, Annandale
- Hoffmann - La Roche, Nutley
- Honeywell Specialty Materials, Morristown
- International Flavors & Fragrances, Union Beach
- National Starch & Chemical Company, Bridgewater
- Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corporation, East Hanover
- Pfizer, Inc., Morris Plains
- Sabinsa Corporation, Piscataway
- Schering - Plough Corporation, Kenilworth
- Wyeth Research, Princeton

The student winners of this year's Engineering/Technician Scholarships are:

- Alia Al-Qatarneh, West Paterson/Passaic County Community College
- David Brzyski, Hillsborough/Raritan Valley Community College
- Sandra Harrell, Paterson/Passaic County Community College
- Khushbu Janani, Jersey City/Hudson County Community College
- Andrew Joiner, Andover/County College of Morris
- Mark Maselli, Stanhope/County College of Morris
